Race Comment

Sunday afternoon racing at Kranji where we kick off the card with a quite competitive looking Class 5 on the PolyTrack. We've narrowed it down to three chances & in no particular order - PEGASUS JUNIOR is back up in the weights however this is the easiest race he's tackled for some time & he gets the services of Michael Rodd. SUCCESS TO WIN has placed 2 of his past 3 starts since winning at this level four back, Duric to ride is another with high hopes. DOMINIC the other, he's busting to win having placed his past couple, both on this synthetic surface. If it's possible to back all three & show a profit should one win then that's the desired option.

Race Comment

Certainly keeping a close eye on the debutantes going around in this race of which there are quite a few, follow any leads. Of the runners we have seen on raceday we're keen on the chances of VULCAN who has only had one local start when not far away on the Poly surface. He's going to take plenty of improvement from that outing & from the inside gate with no additional weight to carry should prove very hard to beat.

Race Comment

Not a race we will be getting too involved in as once again we have a large number of first starters coupled with some decent exposed form. The debutante we're confident will run well is HOTSHOTS SLAM who won a recent trial in very quick time, from the powerful Baertschiger yard he will have to overcome a wide draw here on debut though. ADMIRAL WINSTON & ROCKET STAR both produced good numbers at their respective debut outings, should they run up to those figures we'd suggest both will be right in the mix once again.

Race Comment

This race basically revolves around the ex Australian galloper REAL SUCCESS who's figures back home are head & shoulders above anything going around here. Formerly trained by Matt Laurie his last couple of starts before heading our way were in Listed & Group 2 company & whilst well out of the placings that form is lengths stronger than anything here. His lead-up trial was certainly impressive enough to suggest he's sharp enough to figure over this shorter trip. Huge market watch!

Race Comment

Group 3 feature & what a cracking race it is! Very difficult to label one or two in a race such as this however we did feel if THE QUARTERBACK went around at his early price guide quote of $8.00 he could be the way to go on an each-way basis. He will find this tougher than his previous three wins however he has been most impressive on those occasions, all he could do was win those & he certainly did that with plenty of authority. MISTER YEOH is well in the market & racing in good fashion however he draws very awkwardly, he could well go around 'unders'.
