Race Comment

We're keen on the chances of the ex-Australian RED ROVER who is making his local debut. Formerly with Team Hawkes in NSW he won & placed there from only 3 starts & had excuses the other when not the best to jump & running into trouble during the race. He's trialled well enough (winning) to suggest he can bring his Australian form to the table here & if that's the case he'll prove the one to beat, we are however looking for market support which will prove the best guide to how he's acclimatised to his new surroundings.

Race Comment

Average looking Class 5 which we won't be getting too involved in. For those looking to invest the early price guide has RUNMINDERBINDERRUN around the $4.40 mark which is well unders to us. He's a horse that gives away big starts & finds himself with too much ground to make up, that will again be the case here as he's drawn very wide & ha no early speed. At that price or under he's worth taking on.

Even looking Class 2. We're going with some value putting the very consistent BIRAZ on top. He's facing another class rise here however of late he's been doing the same & with great success. Down in the weights drawn a good alley he stays at his pet 1200m trip & looks great value at the early price guide quote of $8.00.
